and successful service in the municipal Council.

Mr. Diamond's newspaper career (as so much of the public know) was not raised against Mr. Diamond. The trick is a shamless, but characteristic one.

We don't care to mention names, as the parties who raised the cry have already had sufficient punishment; but if Mr. Diamond or any one depicted by him, seeks to make personal enquiry at this office, interview the persons whose names will be furnished.

On similar conditions we will furnish the names of all who have been depicted by him.

At the fact of Mr. Diamond having been depicted in Rev. Father O'Connell's buggy in connection with gentlemen, to a funeral procession, is being against him in connection.

Mr. Diamond is more rapidly improved by relief from physical suffering than in any other way. Stop on your friends' cars.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALLY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—OBEDIENCE IN ALL.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, MONDAY JANUARY 28, 1889.

The Man on Horseback.

BOULANGER ELECTED FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF THE SEINE.

The General has a Majority of 10,000.

Special Meeting to-day.

Paris, Jan. 27.—Boulangier is elected by a majority of 10,000.

The complete return is as follows:

Boulangier 24,000

Other candidates 10,000

Boulangier's majority 14,000

The polls closed at 6 p.m.

The attendance of voters was unprecedentedly large.

Perfect quiet prevailed. Few police are seen on the streets, nearly all being laid in reserve.

The Cabinet is expected to meet at the Ministry of the Interior to-morrow.

Every quarter of Paris was cultivated last evening by frequent street battles between supporters and opponents of General Boulanger.

The most violent encounters took place in Montmartre, where a number of persons were wounded.

The police interfered and arrested several of the ringleaders.

Another serious collision occurred in the Faubourg du Temple, where several persons were injured.

At the same time meetings there were some of great disorder.

Bands of men and ladies singing the Marseillaise and Boulangier's march passed the boulevard near a late hour.

In the Place de la Republique and the Boulevard de la Chapelle, where the police were held, great masses of people were present, but the proceedings were on the whole fairly orderly, although a few individuals broke out and a number of persons were arrested.

To-day opened fine, and at an early hour the streets began to fill with people, the general air and bustle increasing at the morning hours. At noon the elections were being held in the 2nd arrondissement.

The vote was the heaviest ever polled in the district. The Boulangiers were elected by a majority of 10,000.
